

THREE COMPLETE STORIES OF LOVE AND
ADVENTURE IN TODAY'S DAY BOOK

THE DAY BOOK

500 SO. PEORIA ST

398

TEL. MONROE 353

Vol. 1, No. 138 Chicago, Wednesday, March 6, 1912 One Cent

* TRAIN BABY ELEPHANTS TO CARRY KIDS *

A sure sign of spring in big zoos is the training of baby elephants to carry children. This photograph shows the beginning of the work in the Philadelphia zoo. The young elephant is first accustomed to the weight of several sacks of grain.

Then the seating arrangement for children is substituted. His course of study includes careful, steady stepping and he learns to kneel to receive and discharge passengers.